Priority

Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

Drawings

1. Figures 1, 8 and 16 are objected to because items 1-3, 11, 23 and 43 should have descriptive text labels for clarity (37 CFR 1.83(a); MPEP 608.02(b), FP 6.22, Examiner Note 1). Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Specification

2. The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: Page 9, lines 20 and 24, "250 [is]" should be --250 μ s--; Page 10, lines 10 and 12, "80 [is]" should be --80 μ s--.

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 1-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hiraiwa (US 6,724,763) in view of Newman et al. (US 6,157,972).

3. Regarding claims 1 and 4, Hiraiwa discloses a data transmitting and receiving apparatus and method (fig. 15, item 422) for transmitting and receiving data between an external device (fig. 1; col. 1, lines 19-25) and a pertinent bus of several buses (fig. 15, IEEE 1394 BUS) connected by a bridge (fig. 12, item 412), where the external device forms on portion of the bridge (fig. 15, one of item 412; col. 4, lines 46-55). The apparatus comprises a storing means (fig. 13, items 425-427) for storing a first information representing whether the transmission destination is the data transmitting and receiving apparatus (fig. 21, step S2; col. 10, lines 48-51; col. 11, lines 1-5) and second information representing whether or not the data should be transmitted to the pertinent bus (fig. 21, steps S3, S4 and S7; col. 10, lines 52-58). The apparatus also comprises a setting means for setting the first information and the second information state (col. 1, lines 35-40; col. 2, lines 1-10 and 26-27; figs. 13 and 19) and a transmitting and receiving means for transmitting and receiving data to/from the pertinent bus or the external device corresponds to the first information and the second information (figs 13-18; col. 10, lines 42-44).

4. However, Hiraiwa does not disclose that the setting means corresponds to an external request. Newman discloses setting device information corresponding to a request (col. 11, line 24 through col. 12, lines 6; fig. 9). Therefore, it would have been obvious to set information based on a request in the invention of Hiraiwa in order to properly configure the 1394 network (Hiraiwa, col. 1, lines 26-28; Newman, col. 1, lines 64 through col. 2, lines 6; col. 2, lines 11-14).

5. Regarding claims 2 and 5, in Hiraiwa the bridge is an IEEE 1394 bridge (fig. 15).

6. Regarding claims 3 and 6, in Hiraiwa the information is bits or flags (col. 5, lines 20-37; col. 5, line 62 through col. 6, line 20).
